Main function : Required

1 Goal

Write a program with only a `main` function that takes a string `str` as a first argument, an integer `n` as a second argument and that displays the `str` string using the function `puts` `n` times followed by a newline on the standard output. Return 1 if the number of arguments is not correct, 0 otherwise.

Note: The second argument will be valid and between 0 and 9.
